

I strongly prefer keeping the current rules limiting media ownership consolidation. When many sources of news are all owned by the same owner, citizens become powerless to detect the self-interested half-truths and lies spread by that owner. Please preserve the small amount of variety remaining in American media sources.